What does Brexit mean for South Africa?

The United Kingdom’s (UK) decision to leave the European Union (EU) has far-reaching consequences for growth and development in these countries. The contours are uncertain, owing to the currently unpredictable terms of the UK’s departure from the EU. Furthermore, the UK will have to re-establish independent trade relations with its main trading partners. Where South Africa will fit in with the UK’s emerging, independent, trade priorities is an open question. How South Africa will respond, and the priority it will accord to resetting trade relations with the UK, is also not clear.

Accordingly, JCCI and Agbiz, in partnership with Tutwa Consulting Group, and with the support of Rand Merchant Bank, have pleasure in inviting you to an event where these issues will be canvassed.
