

agbiz
agricultural business chamber the way to prosperity

The Agricultural Business Chamber (Agbiz) is a voluntary, dynamic and influential association of agribusinesses operating in southern Africa.

Our mission is to negotiate and position for a favourable agribusiness environment so that our members can perform competitively and profitably, and prosper as a result. This is achieved through the facilitation of ongoing effective communication between agribusiness and government.

CORE STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES

■ OBJECTIVE 1

To promote agribusinesses and Agbiz as key stakeholders and role players in the South African economy.

■ OBJECTIVE 2

To influence the policy and legislative environment insofar as it affects agribusiness activities, by way of on-going and professional interaction with all relevant government institutions.

■ OBJECTIVE 3

To improve the commercial and sustainable agribusiness environment through liaison and co-operation with influential groupings within the business environment, both locally and internationally.

■ OBJECTIVE 4

To support B-BBEE, transformation and development of emerging agribusiness and other role players in the agro-food value chain.

■ OBJECTIVE 5

To create unique, relevant and accessible agribusiness intelligence to support Agbiz programmes.

The core objectives of Agbiz are achieved through our work in the following functional areas:

- Policy and legislation
- Agribusiness intelligence
- Linking SA agribusiness to the world
- Liaising with business
- Stakeholder engagement
- Human capital development

KEY FOCUS AREAS

The following are a few of the matters that are dealt with on a full-time and on-going basis under Agbiz programmes, where we support and advise on:

- Economic policy, specifically through engagement on the National Development Plan (NDP) – Vision 2030 and the New Growth Path (NGP), but also on various other pieces of legislation and policy documents impacting on the economic environment.
- International trade and investment.
- Agricultural finance.
- National and international competitiveness.
- Broad-Based Black Economic Empowerment (B-BBEE), transformation and the promotion of links between agribusinesses and the developing agricultural sector.
- Land reform.
- Agro-logistics and infrastructural constraints.
- African issues, through the African Union (AU) Agribusiness Forum, Joint Agribusiness Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries Forum for Africa (JADAFSA), SADC Trade Hub, NEPAD Agency (CAADP), FAO, UNDP (AFIM Platform), SACAU, Mazungumzo (Africa Forum in Brussels), and other fora.
- Climate change and resource sustainability issues.
- Value chain integration and development.
- Opportunities for agricultural produce in global markets.
- Innovation in agriculture and the value chain to achieve the necessary productivity and quality gains.

MEMBERSHIP

The turnover/exposure of members exceeds R250 billion per annum, which makes them major role players not just in agriculture and agribusiness, but in the economy of South Africa as a whole.

Key constituents of Agbiz include the major banks in South Africa, short term and crop insurance companies, agribusinesses and co-operatives providing a range of services and products to farmers, and various other businesses and associations in the grain, horticulture, viticulture and animal product value chains of the agro-food industry in the country.

As the business landscape continues to grow, change and transform, it brings opportunities for more agribusiness enterprises to join as Agbiz members.

Benefits of Agbiz membership include the following:

- Agbiz is the only organisation that serves the over-arching and common business interests of agribusinesses in South Africa.
- The core focus of Agbiz is to create a competitive and macro-economically sound environment within which its members can operate successfully and prosper, and which ultimately benefits the country by ensuring food security, job creation and economic growth.
- Agbiz facilitates considerable networking opportunities so that South African agribusinesses can play an active and creative role within the local and international organised business environment.
- Agbiz is closely involved in the legislative and policy environment on many fronts.
- Agbiz is an affiliate of Business Unity South Africa (BUSA) and associated with various international organisations such as the Business and Industry Advisory Committee to the OECD (BIAC) and the International Food and Agribusiness Management Association (IFAMA).
- Agbiz has an efficient administrative structure and a dynamic personnel complement.
